MAPLETON HIGH SCHOOL
MAPLETON, OREGON
EDITED by the ANNUAL STAFF

HISTORY OF 1962-1963

This year in our theme, CURRENT EVENTS, we have tried to "broadcast" and "televise" all of the memorable "news stories" which we feel will become the "history" of the students and faculty.

In our year book we have made comparisons with people and events in history and have also recorded new events, In this way we hope you will be able to recall them more clearly.

There have been many outstanding events happen around our school during the course of this year. New things have been added, as the sailor on the gym floor and the score board on the football field, and there have also been some things removed, as parts of the roof during the wind storm. All of these things add up to make a busy and unforgettable year.

We hope that this annual will be enjoyable to you as you "look back through the history of '62-'63."

THE BIG BLOW

On October 12, 1962, we had one of the biggest winds that has hit Mapleton in many years. Much damage was caused by falling trees as you can see in this picture.

Gym Floor Damaged

A gust of wind March 27, tore part of the gym roof off which may result in half the floor being replaced due to water damage.

Mr. Martin said the floor is returning to shape as it dries, but warping of the hardwood is still evident. The estimated cost of damages is $2,500.

Water poured through the beams where the tar paper had been torn off. Members of the faculty and boys around the area worked frantically half the night bailing water and replacing new roofing before further damage could be done.

SCHOOL BOARD

Mr. Perry Fox, Chairman of the Board of Education, School District No. 32 (Picture No. 1) presided at one of the many meetings devoted to establishing a new budget that would best meet the needs and desires of the community. Other members of the Board include (to the right of Mr. Fox, Picture No. 2), Mr. Don Davidson--Mapleton, Mr. Don Wilbur--Deadwood, Mr. Jim Addleman--Swisshome, and Mr. Al Wilson--Mapleton. To the left of Mr. Fox (Picture No. 1), are Mrs. Virginia Carroll, School Clerk, Mrs. Helen Thompson--Mapleton, Mr. Claude Martin, Superintendent, and Mr. Steve Vaughan--Swisshome.

SUPERINTENDENT

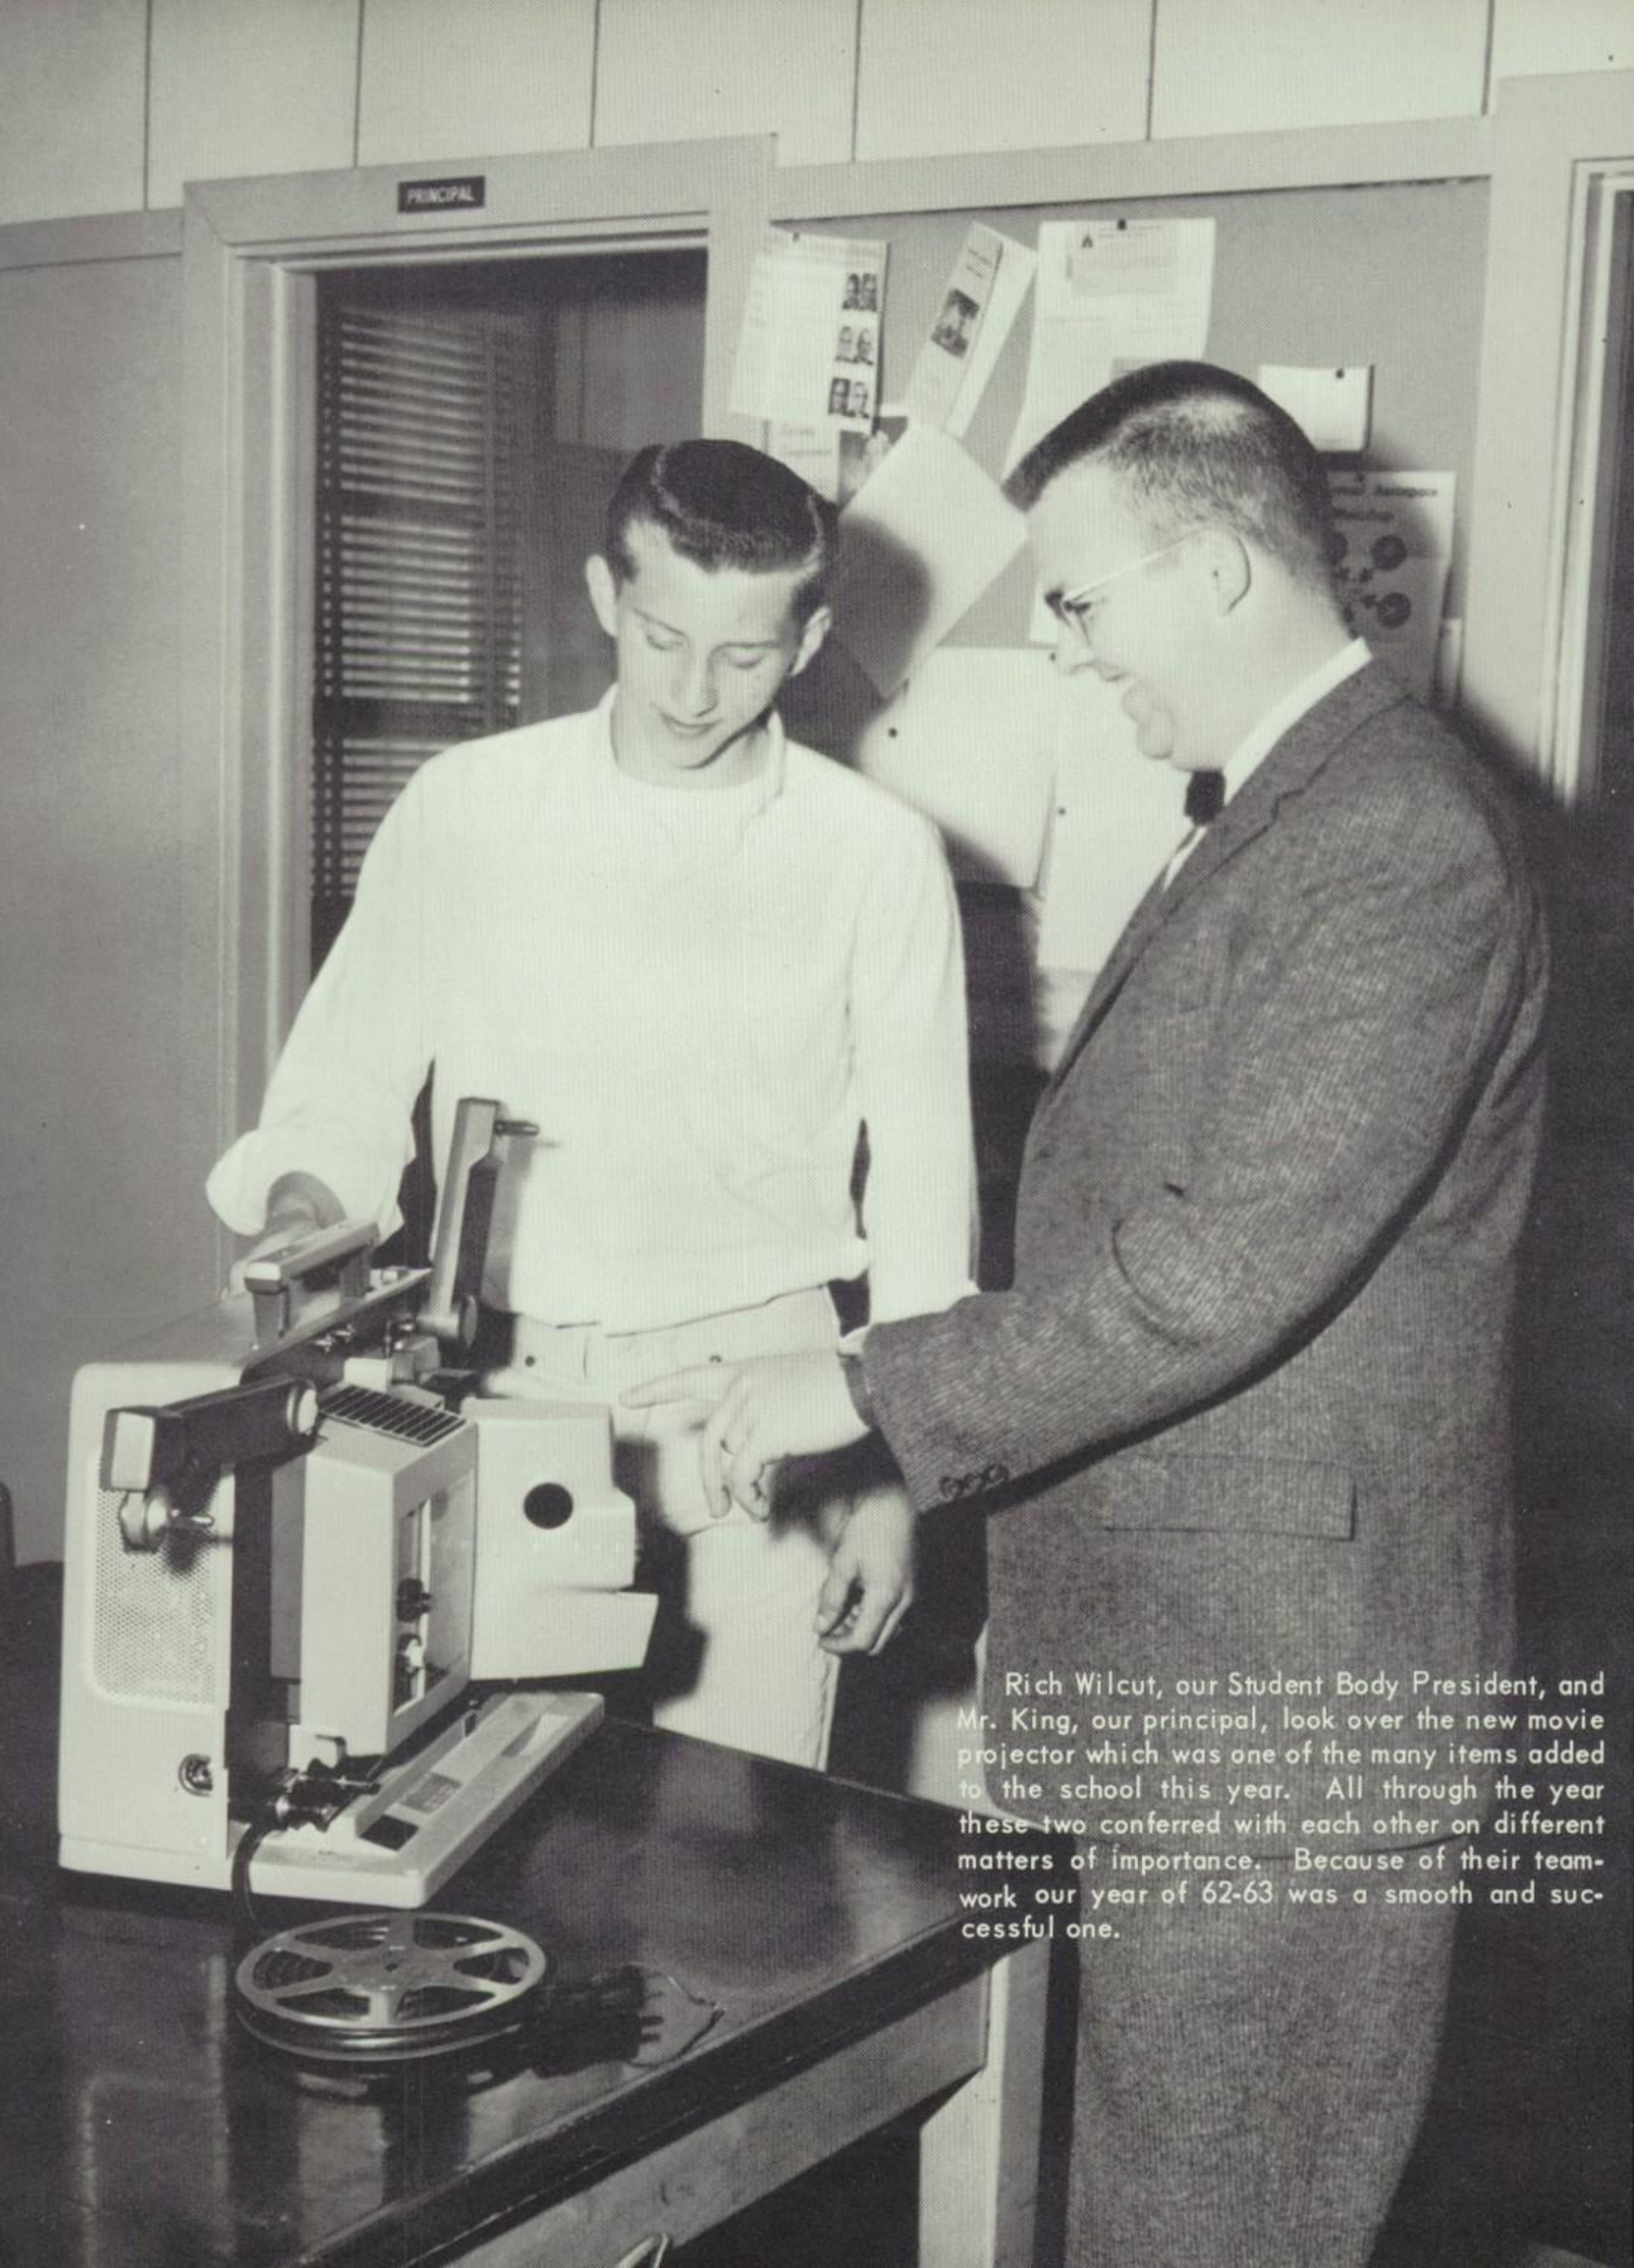

Striving to better relationships among the community, the school board and the school personnel. Superintendent Claude Martin has spent many extra hours working with committees, studying blue prints, and "sidewalk-superintending" the building of a new elementary classroom unit (pictured below). Mr. Martin also found time to return to one of his true school interests by working with high school students in directing one of the 3 one-act plays.

Districts

Rich Wilcut, our Student Body President, and Mr. King, our principal, look over the new movie projector which was one of the many items added to the school this year. All through the year these two conferred with each other on different matters of importance. Because of their teamwork our year of 62-63 was a smooth and successful one.

MRS. VIRGINIA CARROLL

School District No. 32 Clerk
Superintendent's Secretary

Mrs. Carroll's duties range from mail delivery to payroll clerk. She attends every meeting of the school board as well as many school activities.

MRS. STELLA LUSTER

Librarian

Mrs. Stella Luster, our new librarian, has taught us much in one short year. We appreciate her concern for us which she shows by keeping the library in neat order, and by always keeping it quiet so that we might study.

MRS. ELAINE JOHNSON

High School Secretary

Mapleton High School is fortunate to have a high school secretary as courteous, friendly, and helpful as Elaine Johnson. We have enjoyed all she has done for us this year, and are looking forward to having her again next year.

MR. JACK NEHRING

Biology
Physical Education I, II, III, IV
Football Coach
Asst. Basketball Coach
Senior Class Advisor

The name "Knut Rockney" is a name of the past because of our coach, Mr. Jack Nehring. Along with teaching our boys to keep physically fit, he also tries to increase mental capabilities of the students in his classes. During breaks, the students went by the biology room with caution because of the sign posted on the door "Beware, Fruit Fly Crossing." "Knut Rockney" rather Mr. Nehring, helped the class of '63 all the way through high school as their class advisor. He was the one who got the class enthused enough about their senior trip so they would work hard toward the money for it.

MR. LOUIS PAYNE

English I, III, IV
Advanced English
Wrestling Coach
Freshman Class Advisor

Mapleton High School has a teacher who is a composite of Shakespeare and King Kong Cox. Although this may sound like an odd combination, Mr. Payne, our English teacher and wrestling coach, is an asset to our school. "To be or not to be, that is the question." That may be the question but the answer as far as the wrestlers are concerned is to pin! The wrestlers, perhaps in spite of Shakespeare, always seem to place in the state tourney.

MR. DONALD OWNBEY

Modern Problems
World History
World Geography
Freshman Basketball Coach
Junior Class Advisor

Thucydides riding in a brand new V.W.? Impossible! It must be Mr. Ownbey. Thucydides was a famed historian but he could not begin to compare with the history instructor of Mapleton. Mr. Ownbey along with his teaching has a flare for dramatics as shown when he directed the Junior-Senior and one of the one-act plays. This flare for dramatics is also quite apparent in the classroom. "Q-U-I-I-I-E-T!"

MISS CAROL COOPER

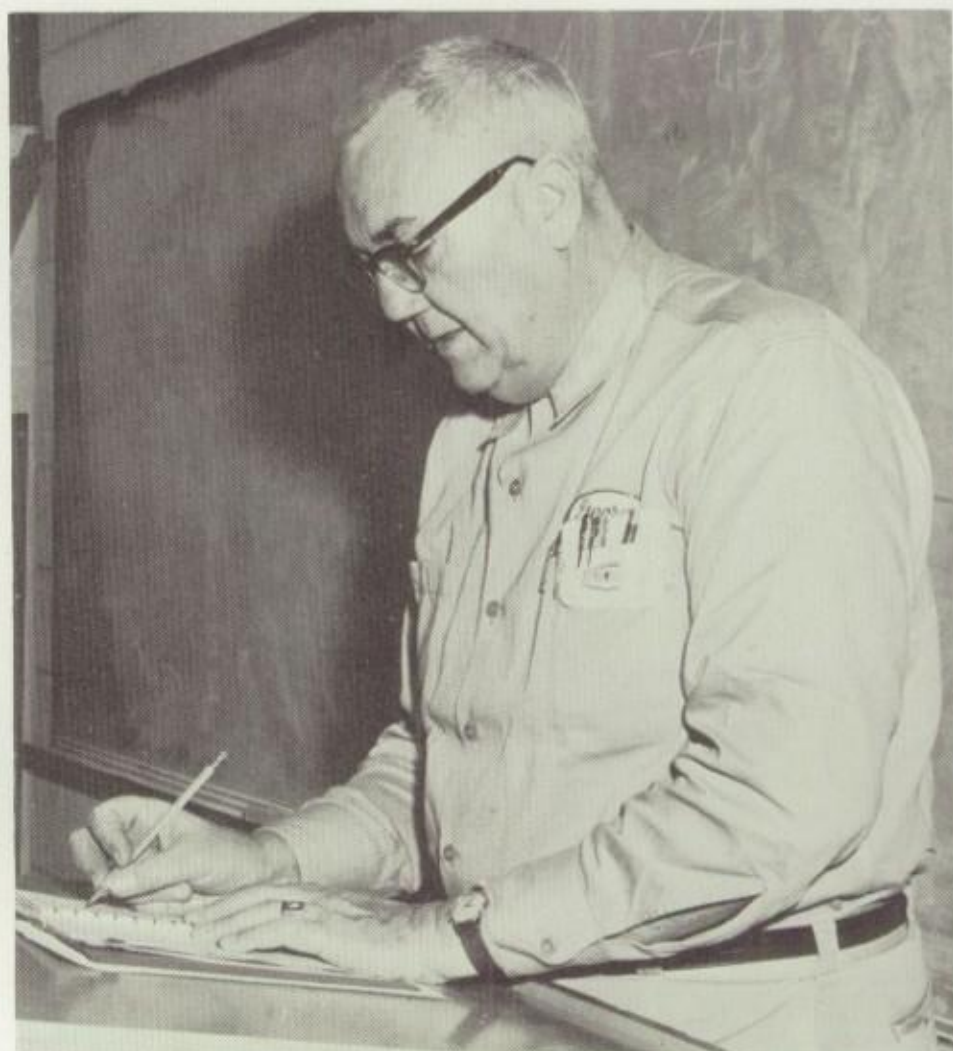

Physical Education I, II, III, IV
G. A. C. Advisor

"Babe Didrikson" could have been Miss Cooper's former teacher in athletics. Miss Cooper taught the girls good sportsmanship and how to keep in a good physical state. Miss Cooper's classes showed their appreciation by throwing her in the showers at the end of the year. Her good nature prevailed and she laughed along with the rest of the students. The ideas she gave the GAC on sweatshirts, point system, etc. were backed by her creative ability.

MR. GEORGE "BUCK" COWELL

Shop I, II, III
Junior Class Advisor

Thomas Sheraton will be a name of the past when the boys from the shop classes show their exhibits class night. Mr. Cowell has turned out many fine cabinet and furniture makers who could compete with any good brand names. Look out, Chippendale! Here they come! Mr. Cowell teaches the latest techniques and works with the latest equipment; both conveniences which Thomas Sheraton missed out on.

MRS. BARBARA RICE

Home Economics I, II, III
Typing I
Junior Class Advisor

The "Betty Crocker" of Mapleton High, Mrs. Rice, is busy, busy, busy. Making refreshments for proms, helping the social chairman and cheerleaders with their duties, teaching regular classes in typing and home economics has shown us the courage and stamina which she has. On top of all these "regular" duties she taught a class in home economics to a class of boys for several weeks. As advisor to the Junior class she is connected with the Junior-Senior Banquet. She has full charge of seeing that beautiful decorations and delectable food are plentiful.

MR. CHARLES GOURLEY

Chemistry
Algebra I, II

There is a doubt as to whether Einstein could solve the mystery of why Mr. Gourley's face turns so red at certain moments. It's probably caused by lack of O_2 , too much H_2SO_4 , and $Cu SO_4$ rushing to his head. It is doubtful that Einstein could have created the interest in math and chemistry that Mr. Gourley did for the students. A special recognition is in order concerning how well he stood up under the bantering remarks of the students concerning his graduation from Siuslaw High School.

MR. FLOYD CLAY

Band
American History
Chorus
Senior Class Advisor

Arturo Toscanini? Impossible! The music is coming from the band room. There is one distinctive difference between Mr. Clay and the great composer. It is rather doubtful that Toscanini rode around on a Honda. If he ever did I hope he had better luck than Mr. Clay. The band received a rating of "2" in performance and a "1" in sight reading at the music contest this year. We congratulate Mr. Clay for his fine directing of the band and chorus.

MRS. CLARICE ROEHM

Typing I, II
Bookkeeping
Office Practice
Annual Advisor
Freshmen Class Advisor

"Freud" has his id and his ego but Mrs. Roehm's split personality is due to her commercial classes and counseling sessions. Mrs. Roehm's patience is shown throughout the year by her willingness to discuss student's problems with them at various odd hours. Ready! Type! Mrs. Roehm has started another timed write for one of her classes. This shall be her motto forever it seems.

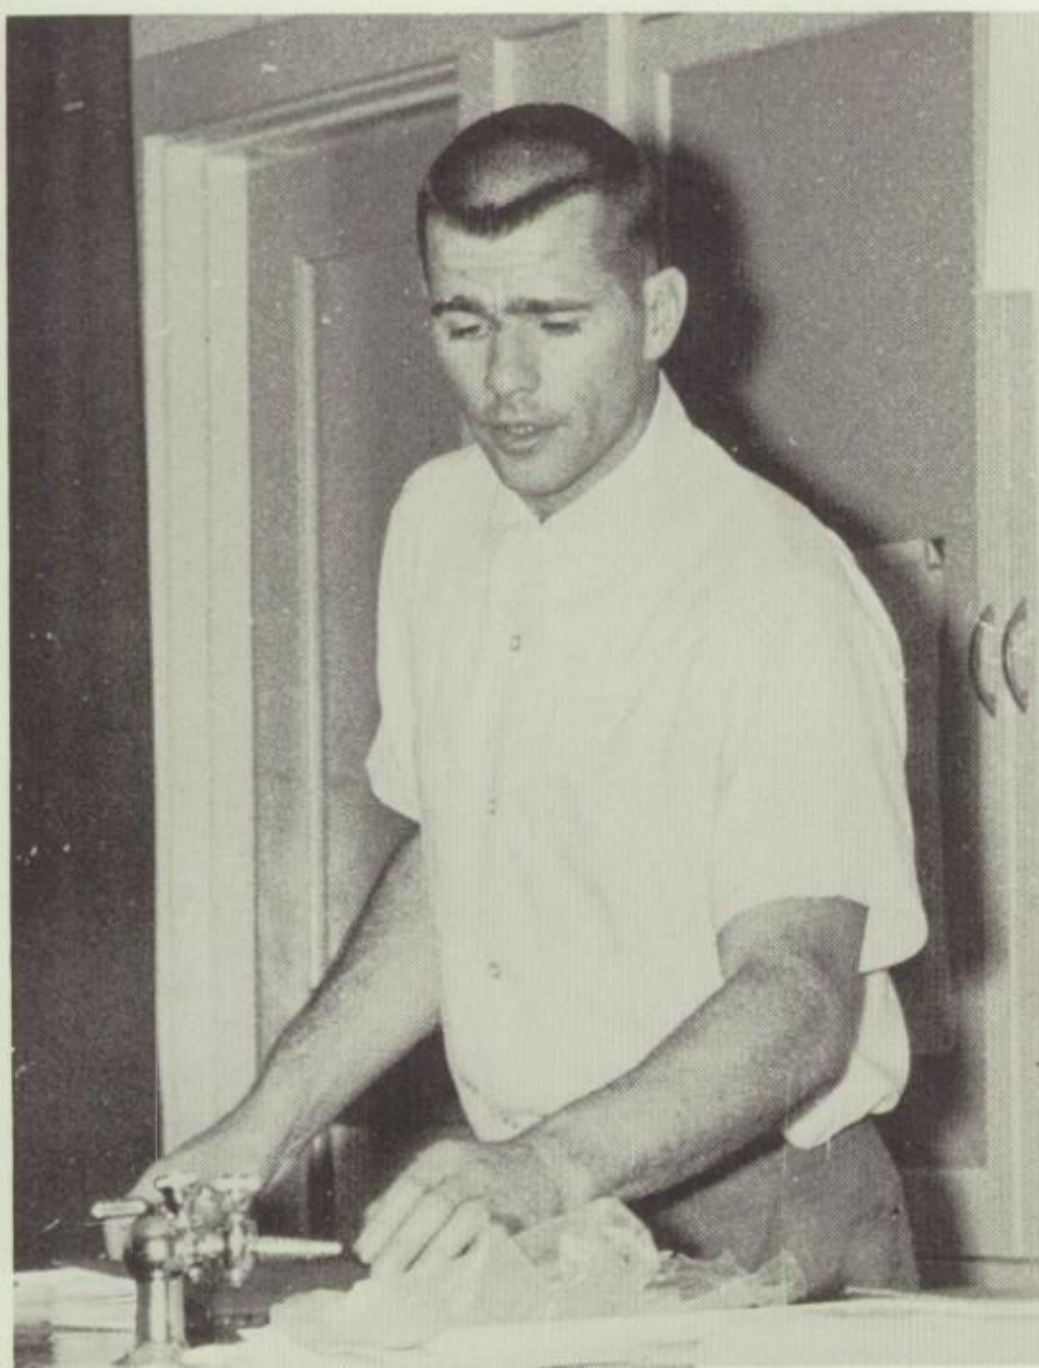

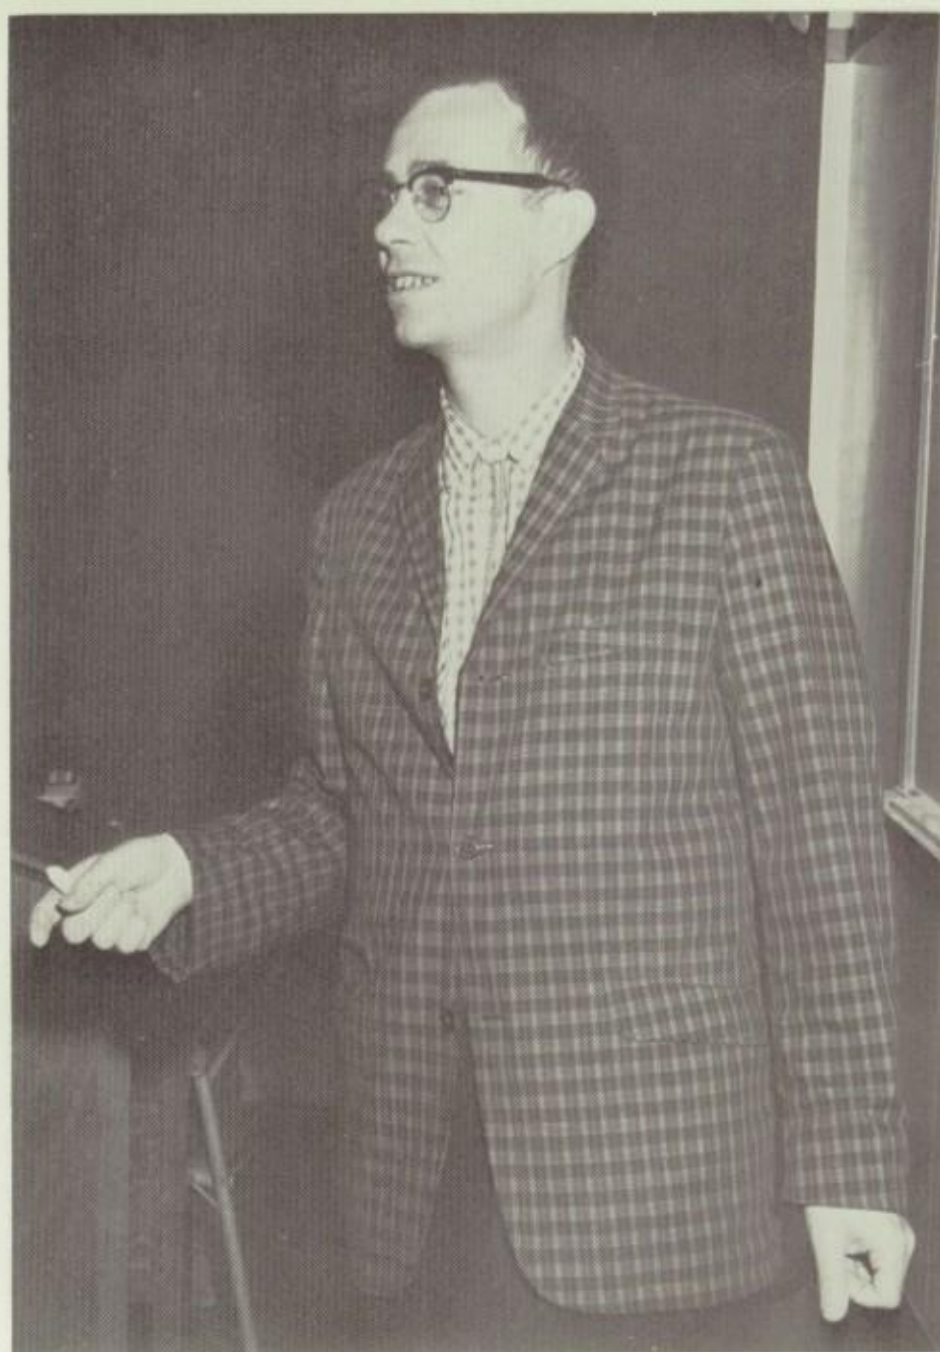

Mr. Payne, paper staff advisor, is caught in the act of perusing an annual.

MR. FRED WOODRUM

Spanish I, II
English IV

Is it really Pancho Villa, the Spanish-speaking bandit? No, Senor, it is only Mr. Woodrum, our Spanish teacher. (The only similarity between the two is the correct pronunciation of Spanish.) How could you make such a mistake? They both sound so much alike, I could not tell the difference! This is a typical scene that happens frequently around our school. Along with teaching Spanish, Mr. Woodrum teaches English. He is also quite fluent in that language. Since Mr. Woodrum came from Virginia, all the students speak Spanish with a Southern accent.

Mrs. Rice is still busy making decorations for a prom or banquet. Her helper is Jerine Hendrickson.

MR. GORDON CARRIGAN

Algebra I
General Science
Seventh and Eighth Grade P.E.

Mr. Carrigan compares to "Pop Warner" in that he prepares the younger boys to become better athletes. He also gives the freshman classes a bit of polish and prepares them for future years of high school. During pep assemblies he enduces enthusiasm into the student body with his rousing pep talks about our "hip" hoopsters.

BUS DRIVERS

CUSTODIANS

Al Brewer (left), night custodian, and Charles Casey, day custodian, have proven to have the patience of Job. Mr. Brewer is always willing to unlock doors for those of us who had night activities even though it interrupted his work. If you hear someone whistling happily in the halls, you are sure to see Mr. Casey who is always busy trying to keep the floors clean and wastebaskets empty. Our thanks to both of you.

The tremendous scholarship program of the Mapleton ticket sales. Other services of the club include the purchase of eye glasses for school children of needy families, and Christmas and Easter baskets of food.

Summer Classes

Two summer classes were offered this year: Personal Typing and Driver's Training.

The purpose of the Personal Typing class was to teach the keyboard and basic techniques of personal-use typing for students who desired some knowledge of typing but did not wish to include a regular typing course in their schedule. The course taught the basic manuscript writing, proper letter forms, etc. Each student was required to reach a typing speed of 40 words a minute during the six-week course. Students were given the chance of purchasing one-minute timed-write records and typing books for further personal practice. The course offer was open to all students (including incoming Freshmen).

The summer course in Driver's Training was a class given

If things work out, this ever-creative class will sell bumper stickers typical of MHS. These will be on sale at school and throughout the community. They may be placed on bumpers, in windows, or wherever else the fancy dictates. (Whatever that is.)

A few members of the class went to Linfield College Saturday, March 10. Everyone had a great time. (Get one of the girls to tell you about the "se".)

There's also a class in the class of Oling...

This year the Juniors were kept busy with two food sales, a car wash, and an after game dance. They held up the tradition of selling popcorn at the ball games, as all the juniors had before them. During the Homecoming week-end they sold "Mums." During school they raffled off a beautiful cedar chest filled with candy.

They earned enough money to buy the coke room from the Seniors, and give the Seniors a memorable banquet, which made the end of the year a great success.

The Class has sponsored two profitable dances. On freezing nights they've sold hot chocolate to spectators at football games. Before Christmas, they sold beautiful Christmas wrapping paper.

The Freshman Initiation was a great success. After the regular initiation, they held a dance for the freshman & sophomore classes.

The events above and many more has made a wonderful and happy year, to each class member.

This year's Freshmen, have had an enjoyable time becoming adjusted to high school, even though it is vastly different from the eighth grade.

Initiation was a series of surprises, as next year's Freshmen will find out.

Every Friday a pie and cake sale was given, and several dances were sponsored. They competed with the Sophomores in two contests, in which the Freshmen won both.

They are very glad that driver's training is offered as an extra class, even though it means being at school early in the morning.

They are glad that their first and hardest year has come to an end, and they can begin fresh and enthusiastic next year.

HIGH SCHOOL COUNSELORS (SIXTH GRADE OUTDOOR SCHOOL)

"We're out at Camp Lane--" These words will not soon be forgotten by the students counselors pictured above.

This group went as student counselors to Camp Lane for a week with the Sixth graders. It was on an experimental basis as this was the first time high school students were counselors.

Their duties were many; they each were a cabin counselor over 5 to 7 children and were solely responsible for them. They also helped three college students, who were field study leaders, in teaching the students.

The counselors left for Camp Lane on April 20, 1963 and came back on the 26 of April. They got lots of fresh air and lots of good food. Some even found out that snipe hunts can be fun.

The experience of working together in the days at camp was well worth the while of spending three and half months preparing for the camp. They all thoroughly enjoyed it and would like to return next year.

PAPER STAFF

Sonja Wilson and Cheryl Hallberg are frantically getting their stories finished before the deadline.

Lewis Dahlin and Fred Crabbe interview Janet Baldwin for the Senior Spotlight, an interesting feature in the Navigator.

Don Fredericksen, Editor, and Linda Brewer, Assistant Editor, discuss the problems of publishing the paper regularly.

Susan Beers, Judy Beck, and Myrna Hinchey laugh while they type the copy for the next edition.

ANNUAL

Our two photographers for this year were Rex Osborne and Gordon Camp. They kept in practice by taking pictures of members of our annual staff, such as this picture of Leslee Henderson as she works on copy for one of her yearbook pages.

STAFF

Kathy Sprouffske (Editor), Mrs. Roehm (Advisor), and Barbara Wilson (Business Manager), talk over the plans for this year's annual. Between financing and editing problems, it is apparent that they still found time to enjoy a good chuckle

ASSEMBLIES

"The Mississippians" directed by Thomas Jefferson Pruitt sang folk songs and spirituals. This is the first assembly of this type and it was enjoyed very much by everyone.

Richard Harris visited our school to tell us about the progress that has been made in the last few years in the Space Program. He showed us some scale models of various rockets and explained them.

Linda Brewer gives interesting facts about the U. of O. Music Camp which she attended during the summer. Dave Johnson and John Addleman listen attentively while they wait to tell about their PAR trip.

E. Grimm, Rex Osborne - Dr. Earnest.

Mr. Bumpus (Don Fredricksen) promises that for $17.83 Ernest will put Henry (Fred Crabbe) out of misery.

Aunt Stella (Les Henderson), much to the horror of Jill (JoAnn Larsen) and Pumpkin (Elsie Milbrett), insists that Henry be thrown out of their Mom's boarding house.

Ernie (Rich Wilcut), reading a story to Pumpkin (Elsie Milbrett), "Stop right where you are hombre. Put your hands up! Up high you scoundrel!"

JUNIOR - SENIOR THREE- ACT PLAY

Gladys (Barbara Wilson) begs Henry (Fred Crabbe) "Please be calm Henry, no one is trying to kill you."

Mr. Bumpus (Don Fredricksen) to Henry, "You're a jinx Henry. You might hurt somebody, they might run over you and hurt their car or you might fall out of a window and squash someones petunia bed. You're a menace to mankind Henry."

Henry (Fred Crabbe) blows out the water and pill given to him by Dr. Earnest (Rex Osborne) when he learns the Dr. has the same name as the man he has bought to exterminate him.

"See Papa, I still have the locket you gave me." said the girls (Lorinda Foster) to the hunter (John Backer), as the woman (Pegge Hotz) listens intently.

"Easy with that duster, Ma!" says Herbert (Roger Gould) to his mother, Mrs. White (Kathy Sprouff-ske).

"Get up and go to bed, Wilbur (Rich Wilcut), You can't fall asleep down here, please wake up," says Mr. and Mrs. Nelson (Sonja Wilson and Mike Danielson) to their son, Wilbur. He replies very sleepily and very unconvincingly, "Uh-Uh I will Ma I . . . will."

In spite of the "hustle and bustle" backstage and the time running short, Mrs. Cowell and the girls who assisted her with the make-up did a very good job. Although make-up is a tedious task, the results were very successful. Particularly the gruesome scar on John Backer's face.

Stage hands for the Monkey's Paw (Directed by Mr. Ownbey, sitting in top row) were Jim Riley, Frank Goschie, and Ron Kilfoy.

Decorating proved to be more fun than work. Margaret Hallberg, Diane Johnson, and Carol Sullivan discover a lot of air is needed to blow up a balloon! Plenty of balloons were needed, in fact enough to cause Walter Brooks to keep Jim Norton from floating into the air!

Homecoming--a weekend of memorable events, was exploded when our rivals, the Vikings, painted out white "M", a startling blue and gold. This event triggered a spark of enthusiasm in the people of Mapleton.

The Bonfire was held the night before the Homecoming game, at which a funeral and burning of a Viking effigy took place.

At the Homecoming game, 200 balloons filled with helium, floated into the air. Twenty five days later, one was returned to us. It was found approximately 400 miles away, in Baker, Oregon.

The multi-purpose room was completely transformed into a football field. The decor was done in blue and white, complete with goal posts, pennants, and a concession stand. Hidden among colorful balloons was a "Pinata". During intermission Queen Carol broke the "Pinata", and out flowed balloons and miniature gold crowns.

HOMECOMING "AHOY!"

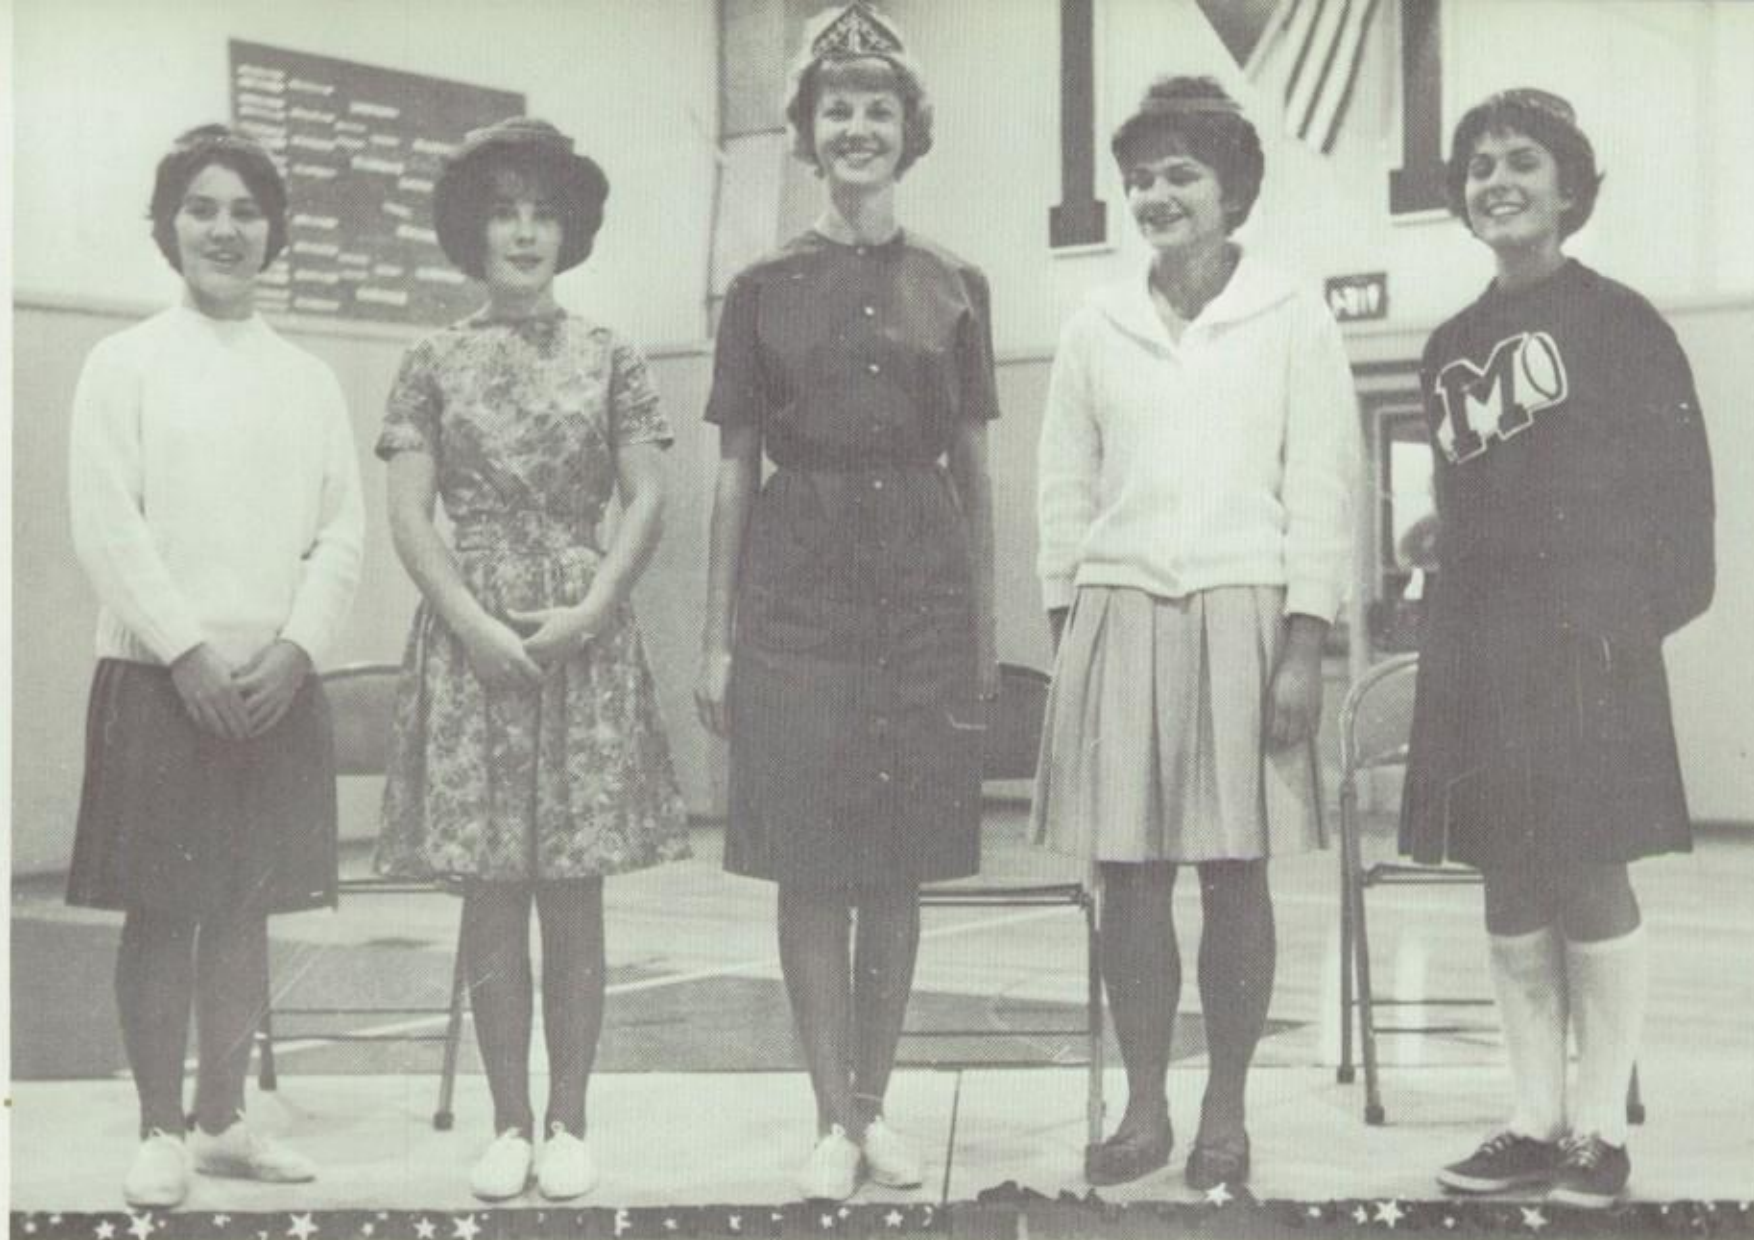

Music provided by the "Downbeats" put a finishing touch on the evenings activities.

The Queen's throne was decorated in blue and white with pink and white heart-shaped petals strewn along the floor in front of the throne.

The weekend was a memorable experience for Queen Carol and her court. They reigned over the pep assembly, at which a dance routine, done by the cheerleaders, with the aid of the pep band, was dedicated to Queen Carol; the Homecoming game; and then the big event, the Prom.

Even though tiring, the excitement of the Homecoming weekend was expressed by Queen Carol, when she said, "I wish it could have lasted forever!"

"Flash" Frank Goschie, Junior Class President, gave the Senior Class a cordial blast-off, followed by "Flash" Wes Long, Senior Class President, giving a re-entry response.

Picture a space ship driving instructor, teaching a woman how to operate a space ship. This was the topic of a very humorous talk, given to the Junior and Senior classes by "Flash" Jim Brewer.

JUNIOR - SENIOR BANQUET

The Senior class was honored at the annual Junior-Senior Banquet. The evenings entertainment and meal were very enjoyable and delicious! Entertainment was provided by Jim Brewer, giving a humorous talk; Pat Doggett playing, three enjoyable tunes on the piano; and the dancing Vertigo Space Bunnies.

The menu for the evening was:

Moon Rocket Fuel
Celestial Filet	Spudnic
Milky Way Fall-Out
Satellites with Moondust
Notelpam Delight
Moonstones	Heavenly Dew

The Junior-Senior Banquet has provided the Senior class with fond memories of a delightful evening.

Beware of the Vertigo Space Bunnies! These creatures kept popping up all over the place, doing a delightful dance to entertain the senior class.

Sitting in the honored seats at the banquet, were Mr. King, Mr. Martin, Junior and Senior class presidents, and members of the faculty. Also the entertainer of the evening was at the head table.

"ORBIT '63"

Osty Clydell? Who is he? Osty became good friends with all who attended the prom, because the theme was centered around him and his friends, Hee R. Kute, and the Hooley Gooleys. These creatures were seen while flying in "Orbit '63".

The Lions Hall was beautifully decorated in colorful shades of green and lavender. Two revolving lights casts dim shades of brilliant colors across the room.

The theme of "Orbit '63" was so well carried out, that one could almost feel the sensation that they were flying through outer space.

The Paul Peterson Quartet provided delighted music for all who attended.

The dim corridor leading to Osty Clydell's domain, put Al Crawford and Rich Wilcut into the mood of the evening.

Queen Diane and King John happily occupy their throne shortly after being crowned.

SPRING PROM

Tim Hoxie and Ethel Jensen dance under satellites and flying critters called Hooley Gooleys.

The first special day we had this year was dress up day. The teachers were more in favor of this type of special day than the others because the students conducted themselves more like ladies and gentlemen.

Slop day was the second special day we had this year. The students had no trouble at all in finding the right clothing for this special day.

Aloha Rogers shows the proper attire for slop day.

SPECIAL DAYS

Beatnik day was more fun than any other special day because more students participated. Bongo drums echoed through the halls all day and in the classrooms everyone sat on the floors instead of at the desks.

Duane Wills, Lee Rogers, and Gordon Camp (above) show what beatniks look like. Below a group of students participate in a beatnik game.

The last special day was beachcomber day. Earl Armbruster and Dennis Lewman show the relaxed atmosphere of this day.

Preparation for commencement is held in the library. Though they are happy to be graduating, they will miss the day-by-day routine which they have grown so used to.

COMMENCEMENT DAYS

CLASS OF '63

Mr. King presents the awards for the outstanding senior boy and girl to Pegge Hotz and John Addleman.

Mr. King awards scholarships to the deserving: Left to Right, John Addleman, Don Frederickson and Kathy Sprouffske. Don received a $7,000 scholarship to Colgate University.

Mr. Martin presents the class of '63 to chairman of the school board, Perry Fox.

The diplomas at last! Betty Cline accepts her diploma from Perry Fox, School Board Chairman.

Mr. King accepts the new trophy case on behalf of the student body from the class of '63.

It's all over: Roger Gould and Charlene Casey walk away to the march played by the band.

SENIOR TRIP

This was the start of one of the most memorable days during the busy, brimful year spent by every senior in high school. Here they eagerly assemble to get into the bus where they spent many happy hours.

Hey! Where's my suitcase. Things on the bus were a jumble as Bonnie Mallory soon found out.

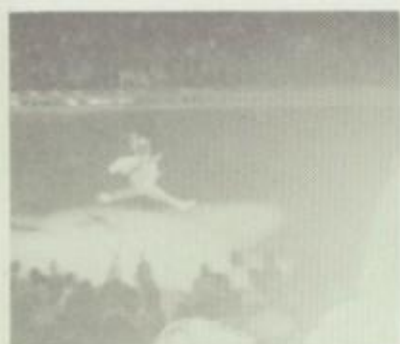

Later at Mt. Hood Susan Beers, Mr. Nehring (chaperone), and Jim Riley take in the snow. Below is the indoor-outdoor swimming pool for those who found skiing was a little rough.

MAY 10, 1963

Hey! What's a girl doing in our dressing room. I'll bet John Addleman and John Backer got the shock of their lives.

From Mt. Hood, the class returned to Portland to enjoy Japanese food at The Bush Gardens Restaurant. Evening entertainment was attending a performance of "Ice Follies". The breath taking beauty of the acts was thoroughly appreciated by the class, as this was a "first" for most of them.

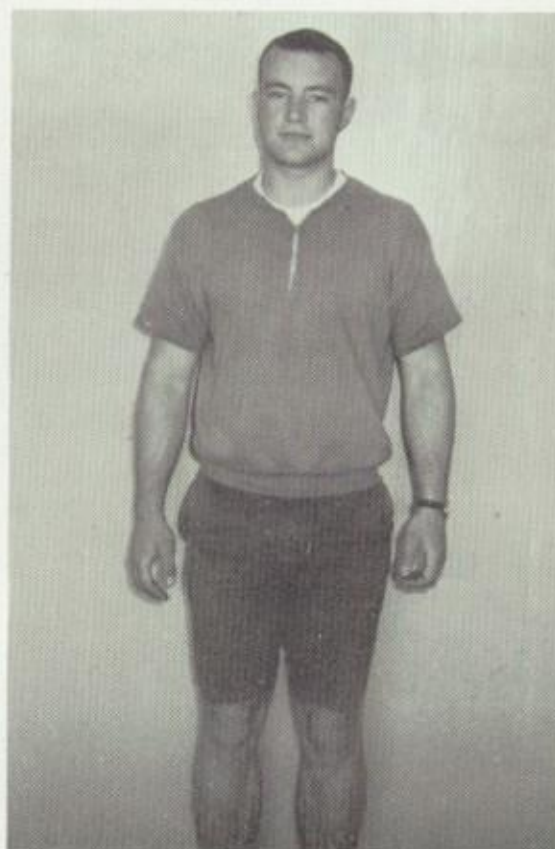

I'm sorry kids, but it's time to go home. Mr. King must occasionally set his foot down. Everyone knew it had to end sometime but just a little longer. Please!

Rex Osborne will go on the American Heritage Tour, a thirty-day trip to the east coast. He will see many of the places that had to do with the beginning of America.

JoAnn Larson will attend Girl's State where she will study about our form of government.

Jim Johnson will go to Boy's State where he will attend classes dealing with government.

Merrie Lehman will be attending the University of Oregon Music Camp this summer.

Lorinda Foster and Barbara Wilson are looking forward to spending their five day tour at the Shakespearean Festival held in Ashland.

P.A.R.

The Primary Abilities Recognition program selects outstanding students in certain areas and sends them to an enriching summer program.

Alvin Ewing and David Haury look at some rock pictures in preparation for their trip to Camp Hancock.

Dave Johnson and Bond Hanson have already started experimenting because they will be going to JESSI, Junior Engineer and Scientist Summer Institute.

Students and faculty alike gathered at Cleowax Park on May 31st, our last day of school, for the All-School Picnic.

SCHOOL PICNIC

After swimming and climbing the sand dunes everybody came back to the picnic area to partake of free pop and ice cream that was provided by the Student Body.

A good time was had by all and after lunch students, as well as teachers, gathered in the middle of the field for a game of football. Everyone was sorry to see a day such as that was, come to an end.

CHEERLEADERS

Sharon Stanton, by attending Cheerleading College during the summer, aided the cheerleaders in establishing new yells and routines. Adopting a constitution and establishing a demerit system helped the cheerleading squad to have a very successful year.

BOY'S P.E.

The boy's P. E. classes especially enjoyed the purchase of a trampoline. It gave them all a chance to demonstrate how "graceful" and talented they were. All their time was not spent on the trampoline, however, there was tumbling, basketball, and football to mention just a few sports in which they participated.

The Girls' Athletic Club scheduled several intramural softball games but due to our rainy weather only one game was played. JoAnn Larsen (catcher) and Leslee Henderson practice in hopes that the rain will soon stop.

G.A.C.

The Girls Athletic Club has participated in soccer, volleyball, basketball, and softball intramurals. A few girls went to a tumbling clinic at Coos Bay. This year the G.A.C. ordered a new style of sweatshirt. The sweatshirts are short-sleeved with collars and neck zippers. The official Salty will also be on them. Almost all the girls earned their letters this year. Fifty points are required for the first letter and forty points for each additional letter.

VARSITY WRESTLING

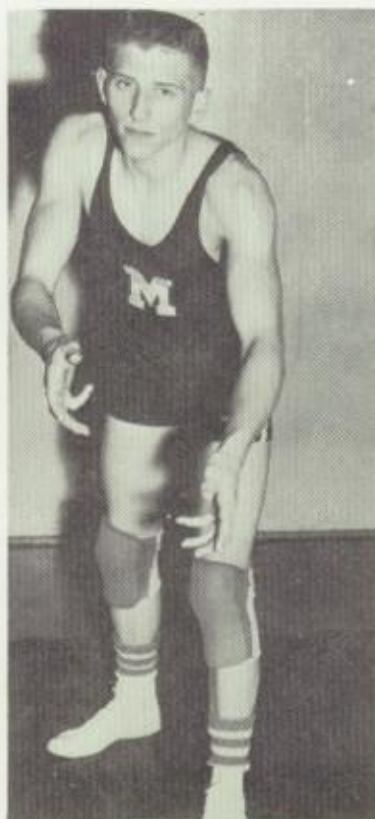

Although the Mapleton Wrestlers ran into the toughest competition in their history, they came through with a 7 win 4 loss season record. In league wrestling they won 3 and lost 2; one of which was by only one point. Our highest scoring match was a 29-14 win over Siuslaw. Besides the teams in the coast league, we also wrestled such strong schools as Glide, Sutherlin, North Bend, and St. Francis.

Mr. Payne, coach, felt that the winning season was due primarily to the fast development of the new wrestlers and the additional help which was given by Assistant Coach Mr. Gourley.

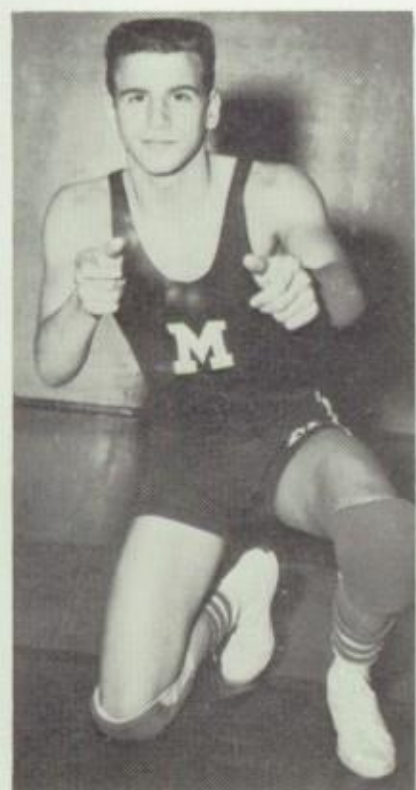

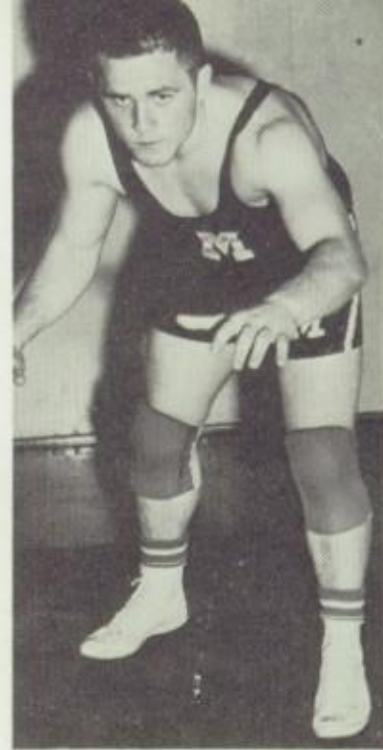

BERNHARDT (Phil) had a tremendous season for a first year wrestler, winning the District Championship and fifth place in the State Tournament. Season record 9-0-2.

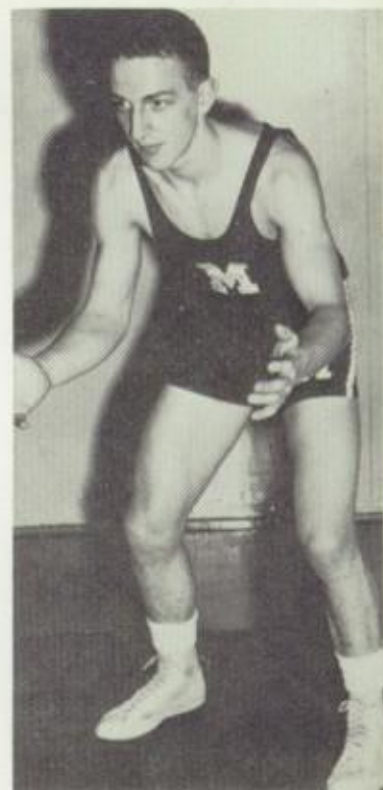

CESSNUN (Mike) had the best individual record of the year, and won the District Championship for the second time. Mike did a good job at the State Tournament, before losing to last year's champion. Season record was 8-0-1.

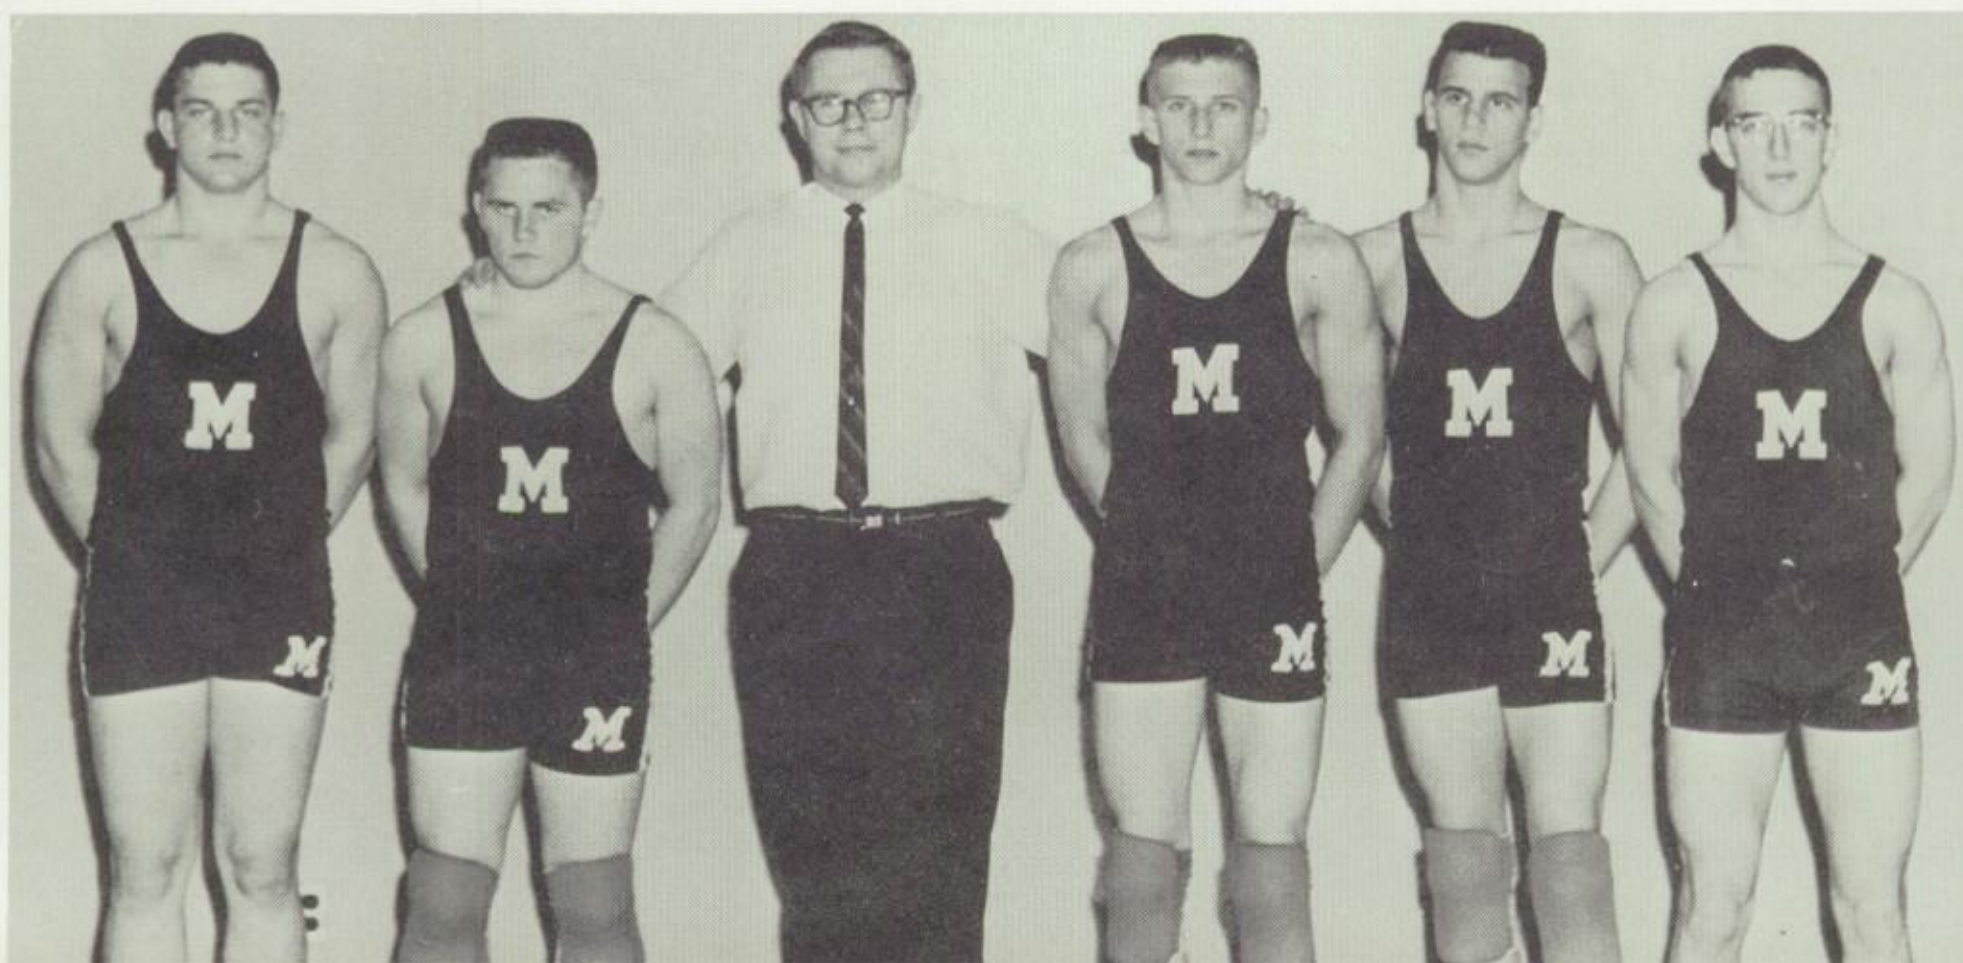

WILCUT (Rich) was our second four-year letterman at Mapleton, as well as being the team captain. Rich had a good season and was picked to be the team manager for the state tournament. He showed good hustle and was a fine team captain. Season record was 7-2-0.

CRABBE (Fred) earned his third letter this year. He met the toughest competition of his career and did a fine job, improving with each match. Season record 4-0-4.

BACKER (John) improved tremendously this year. His determined spirit and intense workouts helped him win his first letter. Season record 2-0-5.
